

AUTHORS PROFILE

Prof. N. Suresh Kumar has obtained his Ph.D. degree in the year 1998 for his work entitled 'Jet Mixing in Flocculators' under the guidance of Prof. B. S. Pani and Prof. S. G. Joshi. He has more than 30 years of teaching and research experience. He transferred the technology developed as a part of his Ph.D. program from lab to land. Provided the process design and drawing for a Jet Flocculator - a component in primary treatment unit of Kitchen effluent treatment plant for ANNAMRITA-ISKCON FOOD RELIEF FOUNDATION, Mumbai. The project site is located at Kanchad village near Wada, Maharashtra. (Completed). He has published 10 National / International Journals and more than 20 in International and National Conferences. He has delivered more than 30 guest lectures in reputed Government and Private Institutions